Observations...

By the Editor

THY NEIGHBOR
Think no harsh thoughts of him though he may look
So cold and proud; thou canst not see his heart,
And those hard lines—O they may be a book
Where God delights to read a saint's high art!
Speak not unkindly though his words be short:
He hath his sorrow daily pressing down,
Seal thou thy lips upon the quick retort,
Give wit reproof, and earn thy patient crown.
Deal gently with him though is way be gruff,
May not some thorn be turning in his side?
O every man's a diamond in the rough,
Or Christ had never been the Crucified!

—Francis P. McKean.

Service crews of the Mississippi Highway Department have really been busy during the past few days trying to locate a spot to put the toll bridge over Bay St. Louis. . . why all the hurry to get a new location . . . we have waited many years and certainly such an important move should not be made overnight, nor should the location of the highway be changed without giving it every consideration . . . and since we the travelling public on the Mississippi Gulf Coast are going to pay the bill for this bridge . . . the State highway engineers are slow in the process of destroying thousands of dollars of value on the present route by giving one glimpse through a transit . . . and then spend many more thousands for another right of way and the building of a causeway for the Harrison County approach to keep the roadway above high tide, not a storm tide . . . it is time for some concerted effort to be made by the people of this section to have themselves heard . . . it is not impossible to build the new bridge at the present location and every effort should be made by the State Highway Commissioners to devise a plan to do so . . . this is not a federal proposition and the location of the bridge will be left entirely to the State Department . . . no Federal money will be involved . . . in fact it is our money . . . the travelling public . . . and certainly we should not allow an injury to be perpetrated upon our own people . . . it is enough that the State Highway Department is relegating us to antiquity with a toll bridge . . . we have a 50 foot right of way on Ulman Avenue . . . certainly it does not take 120 feet of right of way through a city to build a four lane roadway . . . the total width of the roadway should not exceed forty feet plus the neutral ground . . . we are certain if the proper effort is made the highway can be left where it is . . . the additional amount of right of way can certainly be had in the present location . . . today we celebrate the feast of St. Patrick . . . this Holy Bishop, born in Scotland, was assigned by the Holy See, to Ireland, to bring the Gospel to the Pagans, and during his thirty three years there, those at first opposed to him, aided to build churches, monasteries and schools which brought to the Emerald Isle the appellation of Isle of Saints . . . St. Patrick died in 461, and March 17th, is a National day and a holy day of obligation in Ireland, honoring this great Saint who brought Christianity to the Irish people . . . next Friday March 24th, the Pickaninny Backyard Minstrel will stage their show for the benefit of the American Red Cross . . . it is directed by Mrs. Nelius Rhodes . . . on Thursday Evening at 8 o'clock the members of the cast will take part in a parade . . .

Mrs. Gladys Bartlett Jones and Mrs. Horace Farr arrange the displays at the recent Red Cross volunteer service group exhibit. They show that "All May Help."

Luc and Heitzmann Win Opening Games; Doubleheader Is Set For March 19th

The Bay St. Louis Juvenile baseball league opened their season last Sunday at Morreale's Park.

The first game was between the Don Mathis and the Roger Heitzmann teams. Heitzmann won by a score of 9-0.

Little Larry Mathis, pitcher for his brother's team, allowed nine hits and two free passes. Larry, just a youngster, has the makings of a good pitcher.

NO-HIT NO-RUN

Dupaquier, pitching for Heitzmann, chalked up a no-hit, no-run game to his credit. He was a member of the pitching staff of the American Legion team of 1948. Batteries for the game were: Mathis team, L. Mathis, pitcher and McCurdy, catcher, on the Heitzmann team, Dupaquier was pitcher and Roger Heitzmann catcher.

SECOND GAME CLOSE

The second game of the day, brought together the Bruce Favre and D. J. Luc teams. Luc's team won by a close score of 3-2.

Only one hit was allowed by pitcher Bruce Favre. In the first inning two walks, a hit and a costly error put the Favre team in the hole. Three runs were scored in that one inning, but after that, the Luc's team could get nowhere with the opposition's pitcher.

D. J. Luc was pitcher for his team; he allowed four hits which were scattered throughout the five innings of the game. The Favre team managed to get two runs across in the fourth inning on two hits, one walk and one error.

Batteries for the game were: Favre team, Bruce Favre, pitcher and Godwin catcher; Luc's team, Luc pitcher, and Cabell catcher.

NEXT GAME

Another doubleheader will be played at Morreale's Park Sunday, March 19. The first game will begin at 2 p.m. between the Favre and Mathis teams. The second game will bring together the two winners from last week: Heitzmann and Luc.

A MONUMENT TO INDIFFERENCE

Just think! The Mississippi Legislature is passing some legislation affecting the "Forgotten Highway." A bill has been approved by the Senate authorizing the issuance of Revenue Bonds by the State Highway Department for the building of a toll bridge over the Bay of St. Louis.

But this legislation tells us straight out, Mississippi is building roads and bridges for every part of the State except the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and if you want the "Forgotten Highway" rebuilt, you will have to pay for it yourselves.

Someone has fallen down on the job. The fault lies with either the member of the Highway Commission from the Southern District, or with our members of the Legislature representing the coast counties. It is hard to conceive, with the vast amount of money spent for roads and bridges throughout the State, that not a penny was allocated for the building of the bridges over the Bay of St. Louis and Pascagoula River.

The buck has been passed by the present member of the Highway Commission in this matter. The 1946 legislature authorized the issuance of $30,000,000.00 of bonds for road building, and the last of these bonds were sold not many months ago. We were told all of these funds had been allocated by a former commissioner. Who is responsible for the allocation of funds? The Highway Commissioner representing the District. He could have changed the allocation if he had seen fit, and the bridge would now have been in the process of being built. Instead we were forgotten, and today we are faced with the fact that we must return to the antiquated system of toll bridges if we are to have any relief.

Our representatives from the Coast Counties must of course share the responsibility. They owed a duty to their people to see that a proportionate share of the money authorized for road building was expended on the most important and most traveled highway in the State, of Mississippi. Not a whimper was heard until fire destroyed a portion of the bridge over the Bay of St. Louis, yet for a long time prior to this, Highway 90 and its bridges had been in a deplorable condition. The boys were fiddling while the cash was being used to build political fences in other sections of the district.

The Mississippi Legislature is writing history with the passage of this bill, and it is authorizing the erection of a monument to the political indifference of the people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

A group that was founded to help the men who served their country in some branch of the Armed Forces gain recognition in the law-making bodies of the country is celebrating its thirty-first birthday this week. This is the birthday of a relatively young, but nevertheless outstanding, organization. . . . THE AMERICAN LEGION. Many millions are observing this event, and four million share in its meaning.

Following World War I in 1919 a small group of servicemen gathered in Paris; from this meeting grew one of the world's largest direct dues-paying organizations.

The Legion's record of service is impressive; and, similarly, its record of achievement is noteworthy. It has stood first, last and always for the veteran, and has fought to obtain any rights that might belong to its members. It has always served the community, the State and the nation in time of need.

The birthday of the American Legion deserves more than just recognition; the people of this community and of the whole United States should express their appreciation for distinguished service rendered.

The American Legion has grown to an organization with nearly 1,000,000 active posts in the United States and nine foreign countries. Its ladies auxiliary presents a picture of a worthy companion organization on the national scene as does its honor society, the Varsity, the loving 40 and 8.

It would be fitting if we, the citizens of Hancock County, would by unanimous vote honorably discharged veterans who have allied themselves for "Heart and Country" and wish them a hearty "Happy Birthday" with the wish that they will continue to progress and fight for the betterment of their comrades.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Another Kind of Courage Has It All Over Standard Heroics

By BILLY ROSE

Recently, a doctor in Maine sent me a story about a courageous kid and, unless I'm getting soft in the heart, it's the most touching tale of heroism I've come across in a long time.

Some time ago, the medico got a hurry-up telephone call to come out to a small summer camp 20 miles west of Bangor. There, half an hour later, he examined a six-year-old girl and found that one of her legs was broken and that she had lost a lot of blood from a gash in her thigh.

The story, as he got it from the mother, was that the girl and her brother, aged 7, had gotten into the loft of an abandoned barn and when a rotten plank gave way, she had fallen, broken her leg and ripped her thigh on a piece of rusty farm machinery.

As the doctor was cauterizing the cut and setting the leg, the boy—his name was Pete—kept watching from the doorway with worried interest.

"Is Molly going to be all right?" he asked when the splints were in place.

"She's lost a lot of blood," said the doctor, "but if she gets past the crisis tonight, everything will be okay."

"What's a crisis?" "It's—well, I guess it's the time when a person is sickest."

"When people lose a lot of blood, do they die?" "Sometimes. You see, the heart needs a certain amount to keep going. In a way, it's like the motor of a car, it stops running if it doesn't get gasoline."

"I see," said Pete.

LATER THAT NIGHT, the little girl's pulse began to slow up. "I'm afraid your daughter needs an immediate transfusion," the doctor told the father, "but there's a complication. She has an unusual type of blood, and I doubt whether the blood bank in Bangor has it in stock."

"Her brother has the same type,"

said the father. "I know, because the pediatrician who examined the kids last year told me so."

Pete looked startled a minute later when his dad asked him if he would give up a cup of blood to help his sister get well.

"How can I?" the boy asked. "The doctor does it with a little rubber tube."

"Can I think about it?" "Sure," said the father, "but don't take too long."

Pete went to his room, and his parents heard him close the door. Five minutes later, he was back, looking very earnest. "All right," he said.

WHEN IT WAS over, the doctor bandaged the boy's arm and told him to lie down and take it easy. But instead, the kid went out on the porch and, when his father found him there at midnight, his face was white and his fingers were clenched.

"What's the matter, Pete?" "Oh, nothing," said the boy. "Look here," said his father. "There's something going on in that head of yours. What is it?"

"I was wondering how long it will take."

"How long will what take?" "How long it will take me to die."

"To do what?" "To die," repeated the boy. "It's like the doctor said—when there isn't enough blood, the motor stops running."

"I see," said the father. "When you gave your sister a cup of blood, you figured you were going to die yourself."

"Sure," said Pete. "That's why I wanted to think it over."

Soil Conservation Service News

By: J. L. BISHOP
Soil Conservation Service

Demonstrating the Illinois Central tree-planter, Soil Conservationist Carl Owens of Stone County, Miss., sits on the original model of the machine. In his left hand he holds a bunch of Kudzu crowns, and in his right, a crown that he is ready to plant. More than 1,000 plants can be set per hour by this machine. D. E. Lauderdale, forester with the Soil Conservation Service (center), and J. G. Guthrie, forester with the Illinois Central Railroad, look on.

Tree planting, to reforest the hundreds of thousands of idle acres in Mississippi and Louisiana, was the objective when the Illinois Central Railroad Agricultural Department introduced a small mechanical tree-planter in south Mississippi during 1948. It was not then fully realized by the Illinois Central and its foresters that this novel little machine was going to develop into such an all-purpose year-round planter.

This is Kudzu-planting time, and when Dewey C. Morris, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in south Mississippi, recently made his regular tour of eight counties in Work Group 17 he found that the county work unit conservationists had resourcefully turned these machines to other uses. Everywhere they were being used for planting Kudzu, after these planters had already completed a large tree-planting program averaging several hundred thousand trees in each county. Mr. Morris says, "These planters, designed by the Illinois Central Agricultural Department, are doing a very successful job in putting out Kudzu, bi-color lespedeza, coastal Bermuda grass, multi-flora rose, and other plants that need to be transplanted, besides the trees that they were designed to plant. Little did the Illinois Central Railroad realize, when they introduced this tree-planter, that they were doing so much to contribute to general farming in Mississippi and Louisiana. One of the most difficult tasks that any Work Unit Conservationist has to combat is getting the cooperators to furnish enough labor to plant kudzu. This machine saves time and labor, thereby enabling the farmer to put his idle land to work with these plants, and thusly making him more money."

According to P. R. Farlow, Illinois Central General Agricultural Agent, there are now nearly 50 of the Illinois Central Planters of Mississippi and Louisiana, due to co-operation of local banks, schools, lumber and paper companies, and individuals, that this year have been used to plant millions of tree seedlings. With the advent of this widely distributed machine's multiple use, it should greatly increase the economic standards of thousands of farm families, Mr. Farlow said.

By Senior Students of St. Rose De Lima High School

The St. Rose de Lima girls won a trophy for second place in basketball at the tournament sponsored by the Gulf Coast Athletic Association. First prize was won by the Ocean Springs girls who have been the champions for seven years. The boys of Our Mother of Sorrows School in Biloxi, who had been the champions for three years, won second place this year while Gulfport captured first prize.

The tournament took place Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11, at St. Theresa Auditorium in Gulfport. A great many games were played on those two successive days. Those who lost Friday were not permitted to play again Saturday. The losers were as follows: Moss Point boys, Pascagoula boys and girls, Randolph boys of Pass Christian, Picayune boys and girls, Our Mother of Sorrows girls of Biloxi, Gulfport girls, Nicholas High girls of Biloxi, and the St. Rose de Lima boys.

On Saturday the final games were held to see who would be the Gulf Coast first and second winners of the basketball year. The St. Rose girls defeated the Randolph girls with a score of 19-28. Ocean Springs girls defeated Moss Point. Our Mother of Sorrows boys defeated Ocean Springs with a score of 45-46. The Gulfport boys defeated Nicholson High boys.

Such articles as baby clothes, children's clothes, night gowns, house coats, aprons, and cotton dresses were on display.

When all the inside activities were over, visitors and students went into the yard for outside activities. They consisted of racing, relay races, and potato race for both boys and girls. COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Fast-Gaining Pigs Mean Profit

By Howard F. Simmons

MORE, FAST-GAINING PIGS
Pigs saved now and started with good management should mean good profits in a few months.

Early spring pigs are just right to go in corn fields to be hogged off in July, and will hit the early September market weighing around 200 pounds. This early fall market is usually strong.

Nothing can be done now about the time of farrowing, but when litters are farrowed something can be done about getting more and fast-gaining pigs weaned.

Individual farrowing pens are indispensable. It is better to have fewer sows and adequate equipment than to farrow many sows carelessly. Someone should be around during farrowing time, as the sows may need help and young pigs need protection.

Hogs are susceptible to colds and pneumonia, and should have protection during damp cold weather. For young pigs, keep the bedding dry and avoid drafts.

FARROWING HOUSE

With five or more sows, a central farrowing house should be in the plan. Farrowing pens and colony house should be eight by eight feet. Sloping floors help, one end raised about 12 inches.

Nail one-half inch thick, two inches wide wooden cleats every 10 inches to keep the sow from slipping. Every farrowing house or pen should have guard rails 10 inches high and six inches from the wall.

Bedding should be short straw, shavings or cut hay; too much and long straw causes trouble by tangling the young pigs.

Do not feed the sow for 24 hours after she has farrowed, but provide water. First feeding should be one-half pound of oats or bran, then feed liberally after seven days.

At weaning, eight to ten weeks of age, worm with sodium fluoride. Reduce the sow's feed three or four days before weaning the pigs.

Start giving pigs cracked corn at four weeks of age; this can be self-fed, and feeding should be separately from the sow. Add protein supplement of animal and vegetable origin when the pigs are six weeks old.

If young pigs are kept on concrete floor over two weeks after farrowing, a shovel full of fresh soil should be placed on the pen daily to prevent anemia. A mineral mixture of 10 pounds limestone, five pounds bone meal, five pounds wood ashes and five pounds salt should be provided at all times.

Lorraine DeMontluzin Celebrates Birthday

Lorraine DeMontluzin celebrated her second birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene DeMontluzin, Jr., Saturday, March 11, with a party.

Balloons and favors were used for the decorations.

Feeds and minerals should be partitioned off in a self feeder for pigs.

Sow and pigs can be turned on pasture when the pigs are about seven days old, one acre of pasture land for one sow and litter is about right. No more than five sows and litters should be grouped together, and pigs should be about the same age.

There are many combinations of grasses and clovers. Oats and White Dutch for winter and lespedeza for summer best adapted for Hancock County.

Pastures are health resorts. Keep pigs out of muddy infested lots.

ZINC SULFATE FOR PECANS
Zinc sulfate, one of the minor elements so necessary for pecan production has just become available for the first time since before the war. It comes in a crystal or salt form and should be applied at the rate of 1 1/2 lbs. per diameter inch of tree. If a pecan tree is 12 inches in diameter, use 18 pounds zinc sulfate. Scatter the material under the tree on top of the ground. Should it be during a dry season, wet ground to help crystal dissolve and go into the soil.

HOME AGENT NOTES

Sulphur and Molasses Outmoded By Vitamins For A Spring Tonic

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

You've heard of grandmother's spring tonic of sulphur and molasses, haven't you? Or, maybe she used to dose you with it.

Nutritionists have found what they believe to be the answer to "Spring weariness" and the need for a spring tonic. It is thought to have come from a shortage of Vitamin C.

Foods like potatoes, cabbage, apples, canned tomatoes and other vegetables and fruits gradually lose this vitamin as they stand in storage. Until gardens or markets can offset this loss with fresh fruits and vegetables, families depending on stored foods may run short on Vitamin C. Potatoes in months storage may lose two thirds of the Vitamin C they had at harvest.

To be sure your family receives the vitamin C they need every day for health, the nutritionists advise serving more of the foods rich in C. Give them more citrus fruits or canned citrus products, more canned tomatoes and juices, more cabbage, more vegetables and fruits generally.

They agree heartily with grandmother in her belief that spring greens, either wild or garden varieties, are good spring tonics.

BETTER HOMES WEEK

Through clubs and council, home demonstration club women, are already making plans for another record Better Home Week and National Home Demonstration Week, April 30-May 6.

Plans for exhibits, radio programs, tours, teas and luncheons and newspaper articles are taking shape.

When the county Better Homes Chairman, Mrs. Gerald Kennedy, of Waveland asks improvements to homes and grounds they will tell her such improvements as the number of shrubs set out, and cabinets added to the kitchens this year.

She will also ask how many club women built new homes, or remodeled old ones. How many improved their homes by adding gas or other heating, telephones, sinks, refinished woodwork and papered walls added new steps, painted the house or repaired the porch.

Remember Mississippi Home Demonstration club women will be hostess to the National Home Demonstration Council in October. A suggested activity for Better Home Week is to improve mail boxes and plan flower beds that will bloom in October.

THRIFT WITH FREEZER SPACE
The old advice about keeping square pegs out of round holes doesn't apply to packing food in a home freezer or your frozen food locker. Tests have proved that rectangular containers use space to be advantages, whatever the freezer space.

Flimsy cartons and those packed too tightly with food will bulge during freezing, thus taking more space. If rectangular cartons are placed broad-side down during freezing, bulging can be kept to a minimum—a space saving tip proved in experiments.

March Of Dimes Is Success Says Chief

The March of Dimes Fund Raising Campaign held in January was a huge success, according to Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State Health Officer and State March of Dimes Chairman.

MISSISSIPPIANS RESPOND

"Almost complete reports from over the State give proof that Mississippians have responded warmly and generously to our need," said Dr. Underwood. "The amount already reported by County Campaign directors, exceeding a quarter of a million dollars is considerably above any previous total."

Dr. Underwood paid tribute to the enthusiastic and energetic leadership of Campaign workers throughout the State. Mrs. Theo Tudury served as Campaign Director for Hancock County.

HALF REMAINS IN COUNTY

"One-half of March of Dimes funds remains in the county and is used to pay for treatment of polio patients," said Mrs. Tudury, Chairman of the Hancock County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. "The other half goes to the National Foundation and is used for research education, and epidemic aid to counties hard hit by polio outbreaks."

To Campaign workers Dr. Underwood said, "Your personal sacrifice of time and energy has been great, I know; but against it are weighed new hope and courage and the opportunity of restored health to the polio victims of yesterday and tomorrow."

EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Dr. Underwood and V. T. Anthony, Mississippi Representatives of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis expressed grateful appreciation to everyone who contributed in any manner toward making the Campaign a success.

Mr. Anthony left Monday for New York City to attend the annual meeting of State Representatives of the National Foundation. At this conference, Foundation staff members will review the 1949 polio epidemic, the nation's worst in history, and outline preparedness plans should polio strike again this summer.

Report on the Pecan Marketing Agreement will be given by W. E. Leigh, Agreement managing agent, Albany, Ga.

"Commercial pecan growers are realizing more and more the importance of practicing improved methods of production and marketing in order to make this a profitable enterprise," Mr. Hines stated.

ELECT MEMBER, ALTERNATE

Election of a Mississippi member and an alternate to serve on the Administrative Committee of the Pecan Marketing Agreement will take place at these meetings. Nomination of growers will be only at Gulfport, and voting will follow there and at the other two meetings.

Growers who do not plan to attend the meeting at Gulfport may present growers' names for nomination either by proxy or by writing or wiring D. K. Young, chief, Southeast Marketing Field Office, U.S.D.A., 499 West Peachtree Street, Atlanta 3, Georgia.

PROGRAMS THE SAME
Program at each meeting will be the same. Mr. Hines will make introductory remarks. Cultural practices and disease control will be discussed by A. C. Gossard, of the U. S. Horticultural Field Station, Meridian.

L. C. Murphee, Extension entomologist, will speak on insect control. Inspection and marketing will be discussed by S. W. Boy, leader, Extension marketing, or Leon Scott of the Federal-State Inspection Service.

What value would you put on your telephone if you were to name your own price? What value would you place on those errands your telephone runs, all over town, in good weather and bad? What is it worth to chat with friends and relatives whenever you please... or to make a date for bridge or golf?

What value would you put on that hurry-up call to the family doctor... or on those important business calls you sometimes receive at home? What's the price tag on a familiar voice wishing you a heart-warming "Happy Birthday."

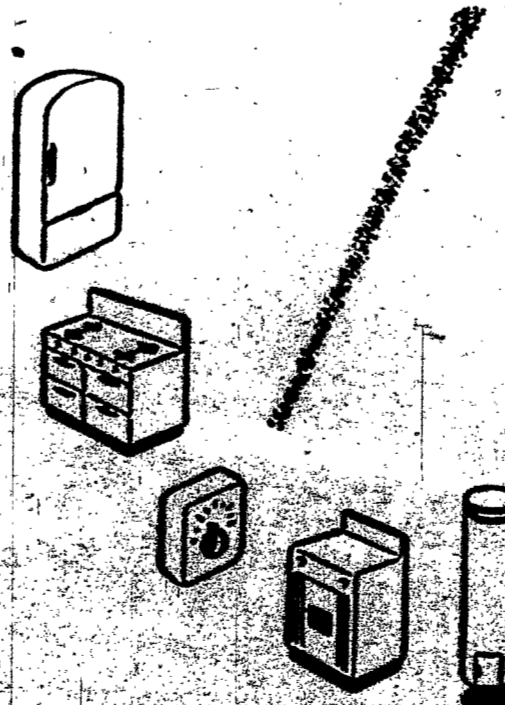

Probably you'd find it almost impossible to estimate the full value of constant dependable telephone service. When you think how much it does for you compared to what you pay, telephone service stands out as one of today's real bargains.

Wire For Modern Living

Ever stopped to realize how dependent the average household is upon electricity—for lighting, food preservation, cleaning, washing, ironing, and dozens of other essential activities?

Actually, though, it's the wiring system that governs the extent to which this vital service can be enjoyed.

If inadequate, it creates an electrical bottleneck—resulting in dimming light, blowing fuses and a tangle of extension cords around the home. What's more, it prohibits the use of many electrical helpers.

On the other hand, an adequate wiring system permits you to use any or all of today's many appliances as well as those which may be developed in the future.

So when you build or remodel, don't go "half modern," go completely modern by installing adequate wiring!

Adequate Wiring Includes

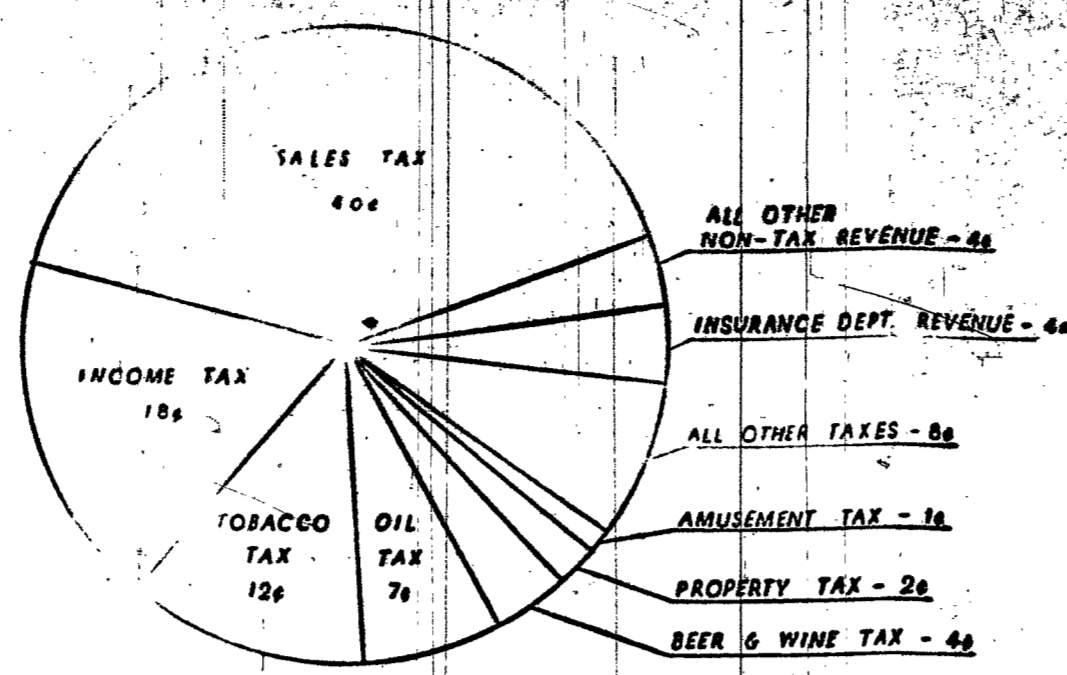

1. A three wire service entrance.
2. Several branch circuits.
3. Plenty of convenience outlets.

HOW TAX-DOLLAR IS SPENT

The two charts above, prepared by the research department of the Mississippi Economic Council, show how Mississippi's tax-dollar is collected and spent. The Budget Commission estimates that total collections for the next biennium will be $110,640,000, collected dollar-wise as shown in top chart. The Commission has recommended expenditures for the biennium of $160,621,935, spent dollar-wise as shown in the bottom chart. Present indications are that total appropriations by the legislature will exceed the Budget Commission's recommendations, the Council said. The charts above were released by the MEC merely to show the taxpayer the proportionate way the state collects and expends his tax-dollar.

Farmers Utilize 180 Million kwh On REA in 1949

Jackson—Mississippi farmers in 1949 utilized 180,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity, it was disclosed here today by committee members of the state's public power associations.

150,000 USE ELECTRICITY

H. L. Pickering, manager of the Southern Pine Electric Power Association in Taylorsville and chairman of the forthcoming Public Power Progress Day, said the 180,000,000 kilowatt hours were used by more than 150,000 farmers for agricultural and home purposes.

There are 35,424 miles of public power rural lines in the state and they extend to virtually every section in Mississippi's 82 counties.

The tabulation of kilowatt consumption during 1949 was made by the Progress Day committee. A 15th Anniversary of Power in Mississippi is scheduled to be held in Jackson early in April. Sponsors of the event are REA and TVA electric power associations and municipal-owned power systems throughout the state.

"One kilowatt hour of electricity is estimated to be the equivalent of 10 hours of human energy," Pickering said. "The enormous amount of power utilized by Mississippi's farmers during the past year is proof that the state's agriculture has been modernized and made more efficient."

Louis Wise of Columbus, a member of the committee, pointed out that less than 2,802 farms in Mississippi received the benefits of electricity before rural electrification associations were founded in 1935.

MORE PUBLIC POWER

"As a result of these home-owned, home-managed associations, more than 50 per cent of the state's farmsteads are electrified," said Wise. "During the next 12 months, additional thousands of rural homes and farms will be provided with public power."

L. C. Spencer, Jr., Greenwood, chairman of the Progress Day Finance committee, said wholehearted support was being received from public power associations and municipal-owned systems throughout the state in the financing of the Progress Day Program.

State legislators, educators, editors and numerous other state and national dignitaries are scheduled to attend the affair.

The Program Committee is composed of R. V. Taylor of Philadelphia; W. H. Saxton of Batesville; H. H. Shattuck of Bay St. Louis; Louis Wise of Columbus; Mr. Pickering; Mr. Spencer; T. D. Davis, manager of Mississippi Services, is secretary-treasurer.

From the PMA County Committee

INCREASED ASSISTANCE ON TARMS AND CALCIUM SILICATE SLAG

The Hancock County PMA Committee was notified last week of an increase in rate of assistance to farmers on lime and calcium silicate slag. The county committee has been giving for several months to get this higher rate of assistance approved so that the cost of this material to farmers would be on an equal basis to surrounding counties.

The rate of assistance on ground limestone spread on the land will be $2.50 per ton and the assistance on calcium silicate slag will be $3.00 per ton.

SPECIAL CONSERVATION PRACTICE

The county is also announcing this week a special conservation practice for Hancock County. This practice is a land clearing practice for permanent pasture with an assistance rate of $40.00 per acre. The committee believes the farmer, however, that this practice is applicable only where the estimated cost of clearing is $20.00 per acre or more. No assistance will be given for clearing a stand of merchantable timber or pulpwood or clearing land that has a stand of potential timber trees of desirable species. Approval will be given only after the area has been inspected by a representative of the county committee and a written report filed in the county office showing the dimensions and the present condition of the area on which assistance is approved. Also the area must be seeded or established to at least one perennial grass or legume during the 1950 program year.

When performance is reported on the practice must be attached to the report showing the location and dimensions of the area cleared and entered on performance report to the nearest tenth of an acre the acreage cleared and seeded or established to one perennial legume.

CONSUMERS COLLECTING DIVI- DENDS FROM ACP

All of the 150 million people living in the United States are co-partners in the Agricultural Conservation Program and are collecting dividends, says Mr. Randolph W. Seal, Chairman of the Hancock County Production and Marketing Committee. They share in the responsibility of protecting the nation's soil and water resources, he explains, since they share in the cost of carrying out conservation practices to provide that protection.

Through taxes, the chairman points out, all the people pay part of the cost of ACP practices—about half is paid by the farmer, the other half by the Government. This places a responsibility on the farmers to see that they do their part in protecting the land and winter resources and that practices they carry out return value received to the other partners in the project. The Agricultural Conservation Program is the means through which farmers and consumers join hands in doing what has to be done to keep the land productive.

How well farmers are doing their part is indicated by the tremendous increase in production during and since World War II, says the Chairman. Farm production in 1949 was about 35 per cent over the 1935-39 average, making possible the pre-war years, 1935-39. "When the consumption of fruits, meat, eggs, and milk is compared with pre-war years," the Chairman points out, "consumers not only are eating more per person, but they are eating better."

The Red Cross gave assistance to more than 2,000,000 servicemen, veterans and their dependents last year.

WHY CATHOLICS "Keep Running to Church"

You've probably heard people comment at times on the fact that their Catholic neighbors go to church so often. Perhaps you have wondered yourself . . . is all this necessary?

Catholics, you may be sure, have good reasons.

Going to Mass on Sunday is, of course, an obligation for every Catholic, Confession and Holy Communion at least once a year are a sacred duty. But most Catholics go to Confession and receive Holy Communion oftener . . . some every month, some every week, some every day.

There are also many other special services and devotions for which Catholics go to church.

In the average city, the Catholic Church is always open and seldom empty. Many will enter the church at any hour of the day to visit Jesus Christ present on the altar, mindful of His invitation: "Come to Me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."

But, you ask, is all this necessary? Catholics believe it is.

They believe that Christ not only called upon us to honor and serve God . . . but prescribed the ways in which we should do so. He did not say how often we must go to church . . . nor how many prayers we were to recite. But He did establish a Church with the power and authority to carry on His work . . . and He promised that His Church would last to the end of time—that it would have God's protection in teaching all men to observe all things He had commanded, especially to believe and to be baptized and thereby become members of His Church to attain the purpose of their lives.

And how do Catholics know theirs is Christ's Church?

Because it possesses the distinguishing marks Christ gave His Church. It covers the earth as Christ said it would. Unchanged after nearly 2,000 years, it continues to live and grow, in fulfillment of His promise that His Church would last to the end of the world.

But the most convincing mark that He gave it is its unity, of faith, worship and obedience under the authority of the lawful and historical successor of Peter, the first Bishop of Rome and the "rock" upon which Christ built His Church. Just as Peter was the first Pope and the first Vicar of Christ, so also is Pius XII the 262nd Pope and the Vicar of Christ today.

If you would like to know more about the distinguishing characteristics which Christ declared His Church must have and which the Catholic Church possesses today, we'll be happy to send you without cost or obligation an interesting and enlightening pamphlet. Write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. 2-N.

Legionnaires Observe 31st Birthday Mar. 17

Almost three and a half million Americans observe a birthday today March 17, which has a personal meaning to them; it's the birthday of the American Legion, and those observing it are Legionnaires.

Commander Fred E. Fayard of the Clement R. Bontemps Post No. 139 here in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County said that the observance was one of simplicity and that the scope of American Legion activity for the time of year is being followed as usual. He added, however, that many large metropolitan centers of the nation are today observing the birthday with lavish ceremony.

Thirty-one years ago, that visionary group of fighting AEF veterans conceived the idea and ideals of the Legion which have caused it to live and outgrow the dreams of its founders. In the one generation of its life, The American Legion has grown to one of the greatest forces for good in the United States.

Among the Legionnaires in this locality, many World War veterans have been members since the organization's inception.
